

Four easy steps becoming certified

1) BPM Self-Assessment

Aspiring and veteran BPM practitioners alike can use this self-assessment to determine current strengths and weaknesses. It will also help you determine your odds of obtaining a BPM Certification.

2) Certification Coverage Areas

The CBPMP exam and the self assessment map to these six critical BPM Practice Areas.

- Business Process Management Concepts
- Process Discovery and Modeling
- Process Improvement, Analysis & Design
- Process Measurement
- Business Process Technologies
- Process-Oriented Enterprise

3) Fill the Gaps

Take the training you need. Our Learning Paths will help you select training for your career path.

Select from one of our role-based Learning Paths or customize your own Learning Path. More than 40 courses to choose from. Courses available On Demand, Live Online, Face-to-Face as well as custom and in-house training options for groups.

4) 2014 Certification Exam Dates

Save the date. Mark your calendar for an upcoming exam date near you.

BrainStorm DFW	02/12
Gartner BPM Summit, London	03/18
BrainStorm Chicago	04/30
Gartner BPM Summit, Australia	05/21
BrainStorm San Francisco	06/25
BrainStorm DC	09/17
BrainStorm New York	11/05
Gartner BPM Summit, Las Vegas	12/12

Start with the Self-Assessment - www.BPMInstitute.org/BPMSA